

No-Compromise Organic Mattress?

Naturepedic claims to make a “No-Compromise” organic mattress. They even put a handy little diagram on their website, which shows the four neat layers and their socially-responsible descriptions.

When you actually look inside a Naturepedic “No-Compromise” mattress you see an entirely different story:

Layer of Cotton-Polyester Blend? Blended with what? Fire Retardants?

Plastic Mesh?

The No-Compromise™ Organic Cotton Classic Construction Diagram

- 100% Polyethylene Outer Surface Plastic.
- FlameBreaker Fire Protection Tyvek?
- 100% Organic Cotton Filling
- 150/252 Coil Orthopedic Innerspring with Heavy Duty Border Rods

Abstract Drawing Not to Scale

Diagram found at: http://naturepedic.com/products/mattresses/classic_diag.php

Naturepedic eliminated two entire synthetic layers from their diagram. The blue material – a chemically dyed Tyvek-type material – and the plastic mesh over the innerspring are both plastic (chemical derivatives), which are usually not biodegradable or environmentally friendly.

- The polyethelene fabric coating is the same plastic that is used in Tupperware and grocery bags. It is NOT biodegradable or environmentally “friendly.”
- Naturepedic’s diagram doesn’t describe the “blended cotton” layer. What is it? Where does it come from? Is this a polyester-cotton blend? Is the cotton certified organic?
- Is the “FlameBreaker” the Tyvek-type material, chemically dyed blue and non-biodegradable?
- The “organic” cotton appears to contain many impurities and is of low quality. Are they using scrap cotton? (Compare to the picture below.)
- What purpose does the “plastic mesh” serve, other than to fill the mattress with non-biodegradable substances?

Does this “No-Compromise” organic mattress compromise Organic Integrity? Is it flat-out GREENWASHING?

We invite comparison to our organic mattress (which truly allows No Compromise).

- 100% Certified Organic Cotton Cover
- Naturally Safer® Eco-Wool™
- Customer can choose between a cotton silica barrier or 100% certified organic cotton barrier.
- 100% Certified Organic Cotton Fabric
- 100% Certified Organic Cotton Padding
- 100% Certified Organic Cotton Fabric

We use the finest 100% organic cotton available, which means no leaf debris or sweepings in your mattress. We never use any products that have been dyed, and we definitely don’t include plastic anywhere in our completely biodegradable ORGANIC mattresses!